

Critical Communications Across Your Organization. Instantly.

AT OMNILERT, WE UNDERSTAND

Organizational safety is a full-time job. During critical events, getting the right message to the right people is an imperative piece of your emergency response plan. Preplanned communication, situationally aligned, and delivered to the right people reduces human error during times of high stress. Before things get hectic, you've already gotten the word out.

Clear communication promotes confidence and peace-of-mind across an organization.
Calm. Cool. Communicated.

DESIGNED AROUND YOUR ORGANIZATION

Emergencies can happen everywhere - from the manufacturing floor to the campus quad. Our unique approach to emergency planning, notification, and response provides you with an effective and reliable solution for your industry.

OMNIMODAL™ APPROACH

Initiate critical response communications across all technologies and devices to reach every person; no matter where they are and what they are doing.

A Connected Organization is Informed. Informed People are Empowered.

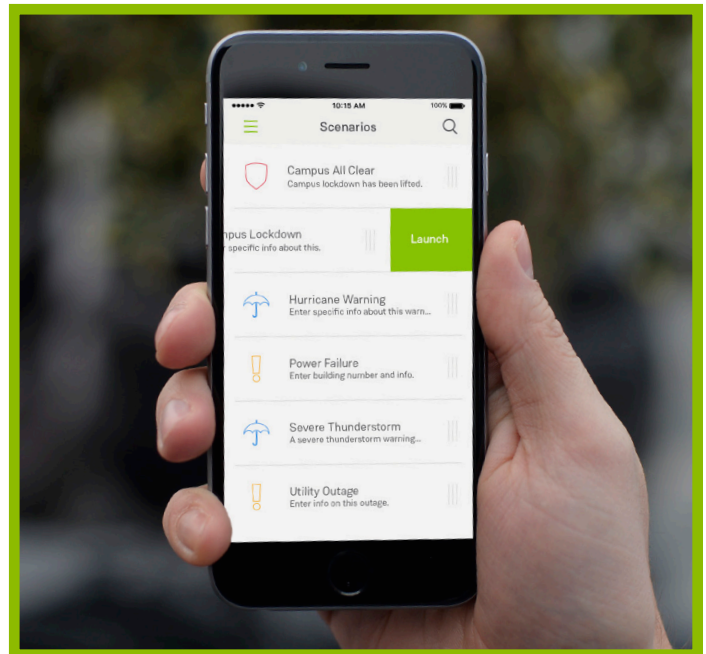

SCENARIOS® — AN OMNILERT EXCLUSIVE

With Scenarios, you can align, capture, and initiate your organization’s emergency response plan’s predefined series of unique actions. Emergency response is quicker, easier, and more effective long before issues arise.

Response actions can include:

- Launch unique messages and guidance to specific groups and end points
- Activate connected safety hardware’s response capabilities
- Initiate Unified Command via web or conference call

There’s no limit to the possibilities. Providing you the ability to integrate with an increasingly connected world to improve critical communications.
